Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 16 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Patchy fog, frost overnight. Friday, some fog lingering otherwise bright.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry with light winds. Clear spells are likely to persist for many areas, and this will make for a chilly night with patches of frost and fog forming. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Friday:
Dry with sunny spells, some patchy cloud likely as well. Morning fog patches slow to clear in places, and chilly here. Fog patches reforming in evening where clear periods persist. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Generally rather cloudy but dry this weekend. However, any significant cloud breaks overnight allowing fog and frost to form. Sunny spells Monday, but the odd light shower too. Becoming cooler.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.